The Daily Union Vedette.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1861.

Facts from the Report of the Census of 1860.

It has often been asserted, by the polygamists, that the women are largely in excess of the men in this Territory and in the country at large; by referring to page 9 of the "Preliminary Report of the eight Census" it will be seen that there is very little difference between the two. It says, "In the United States and Territories there is an excess of about 730,000 males in more than 31,000,000 of people. The females of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland outnumber the males some 877,000 in a population of little more than 27,000,000."

This disparity is caused by the large emigration of young men from the mother country, and the heavy demand made on them for the army and navy.

In speaking of the excess of males in newly settled territories, the Commissioner says: "The males of California outnumber the females nearly 67,000, or about one-fifth of the population. In Illinois the excess of males amounts to about 92,000, or one-twelfth of the entire population. In Massachusetts the females outnumber the males some 37,000. In Colorado the males are as twenty to one female. In Utah there are nearly equal; and while in New York there is a small preponderance of females, the males are more numerous in Pennsylvania."

The actual figures of the report show that Utah in 1860 contained 20,178 males and 19,947 females, which is, we believe, the nearest that any State or Territory comes to having an equal number of each sex.

NUMEROUS are the trials and tribulations of an editor, but it is not until the telegraph lines give out, and no mails arrive for forty-eight hours, that you see him in the full depth of blank despair. The ominous cry of "copy" from the compositor reminds him that there is no rest for the wicked, and nervously he turns to his slender stock of well-clipped exchanges. The latest tilt at tilting hoofs is selected for the sixth or seventh time with the full knowledge that, in spite of his conscientious objections, the ladies, if they have pretty feet, will show them. The latest report, as to whether Jeff. Davis takes his eggs hard or soft boiled, is republished in flaming capitals. He hunts up the last telegraph report and sets his head in a whirl by endeavoring to give an authentic and elaborate account of the military situation in Europe, but after passing over the map in vain, to find a dozen points indicated by unpronounceable names, he gives up in despair, and turning over his files hunts up his heavy leader on Constitutional Amendment, number sixty-four, which is redressed to do service for number sixty-five that has just appeared. By this time he is encouraged by the report "only two sticks full more," which is promptly filled with the usual weekly account of the death of the last revolutionary survivor, with "affecting death-bed scenes," while the case of remarkable elopement in Indiana is left upon the hook for another issue.

To All Whom it May Concern.

A popular preacher of Rochester, New York, has posted the following up on his door, with the above heading:

Dr. — does not live here. He has moved away from where he lives now, and will not occupy this house again until May 15, 1867. In consequence of this, the present incumbent has decided to suspend the free list. No books, maps, pictures, stationery or receipts of any kind wanted. No history of the rebellion, whether written by Greeley or Jeff. Davis. Have no desire to put my name in any subscription book that it may be used for influence. Have no old clothes except those I am now wearing, and the customs of modern society are unfortunately such that I cannot dispense with them. Have no cold pieces for we cannot get money enough to purchase at one time more than we can eat at one meal, consequently proprietors of boarding houses will have to look elsewhere for supplies. This house will not be kept as a hotel, and warm meals at all all hours will not be furnished. Have not a spear of hay in the barn, or a single oat, and have not taken care of horses since I drove on the canal, which means that we have no room for horses or donkeys either.

Have no vacant rooms or beds to spare for agents, colporters, traveling ministers, missionaries, teachers, elders, beggars, sponges, leeches, professional bards, seedy students, soldiers, sailors, negroes, Freedmen's Aid Society agents, rebels or abolitionists, even though ministers in neighboring towns and cities have told them to be sure to call here.

No money to spare for any of the above individuals or enterprises which they represent, even though it be for the laudable object of furnishing unborn African children with red flannel shirts and fine tooth combs.

In short, the minister does not live here now, and "old things have passed away, and all are become new."

NEW PROCESS.—We hear good news from the Dodge process. Gentlemen who are closely watching it, say that he has about 400 pounds of mercury pretty well charged with gold. Judge Dickerson thinks Dodge is getting at the rate of $200 a cord from the Cordon, a very refractory ore which the stamp mills have never got more than $40 from. We certainly hope for the utmost success of the process, since it is unquestionably very cheap and simple. If successful no full trial other work will be immediately put up.—Colorado Journal.

Congress and the Mines.

Mines—which means the gold and silver veins of the Western States and Territories—are becoming a very prominent topic of discussion in Congress. Quite a number of bills respecting them have been introduced in the present session, and it is gratifying to observe that in their general features they average a great deal better than bills upon the same subject considered in former years.

Mr. Sherman's bill was a good one in most respects. It contained some errors, as what bill, when first offered, does not. Since then the representatives of the mining regions have been maturing a bill, which is expected to meet the wants of their constituents. Our own Senators elect have lent their aid in trying to accomplish its perfection. They think it is nearly or quite what the people of Colorado want; but it is somewhat doubtful about its becoming a law before the adjournment of the Congress. If it does not, then, it will probably be one of the first measures considered in the next session.

In any event we consider that the adoption of the State Constitution last year was not quite barren of good results, even if we fail to secure admission under it, since our representatives have given their experience and influence to the perfection of so important a measure as the mining law. We only hope that they may be able to record their votes upon its final passage.

Yesterday's telegraphic report says that,

"Mr. Higby, in the House, introduced a bill to legalize the occupation of mineral land, and to extend the rights of pre-emption thereto. Read twice and referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining."

Mr. Higby is of California, and his bill may be the one that has been in course of preparation and to which we above referred. It is a great detriment to the mining regions of the Great West that they have not more votes and more weight in the National Congress. Let us hope that it will soon be effectively remedied.—Denver News.

Gen. Pope and the Indians.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune, writing from Texas, says:

"The proposition to divide the State, by the line of the Trinity river, has been largely discussed, and found agreeable to all parties; so much so that the convention passed an ordinance providing for it. And whether the work of the convention is sustained or not, a proposition will be made in the first Legislature that sits to effect that end. The State of Texas is not only so large as to be very unwieldy, but that portion of the State east of the Trinity river is so widely different from the balance as to make a kind of class legislation necessary. The one is solely a grain and cotton producing country; the other is, to all intents and purposes, a stock raising country; and in various other ways they are as different as two States could well be."

Ideas About Women.

A French book, recently published at Brussels, contains among other interesting matters a collection of aphorisms about women, taken from the writings of various authors. We copy a few of them:

CHAMPFORT.—In the choice of a lover, women consider more how he appears in the eyes of other women than in her own.

BONQUAERT.—If we speak ill of the sex generally, they will rise against us; but if we do the same of any individual woman they will agree with us.

CHARLES LEMSLIE.—Most of their faults women owe to us, whilst we are indebted to them for most of our better qualities.

DIDEROT.—There exists among women a secret tie, like that among priests of the same faith. They hate each other, yet they protect each other's interests.

ALPHONSE CARL.—Say that of women that she is obstinate, frivolous, but add that she is beautiful, and be assured that she will ever think kindly of you. Say that she is kind, virtuous, sensible, but very homely and she will never forgive you in her life!

J. J. ROSSEAU.—Men can better philosophize on the human heart, but women can read it better.

A CONTINENT COVERED WITH ICE.—Professor Agassiz comes to the conclusion that the continent of North America was once covered with ice a mile in thickness, thereby agreeing with Professor Hitchcock and other geological writers concerning the glacial period.

Cholera.

Our citizens have been agreeably disappointed by the effect which the late excessively warm weather has had upon the choleraic diseases. It was generally believed that warm weather would develop those complaints and cause a material increase in the number of cases; but instead of that, it is a singular fact that the change was for the better. Previous to the heated term, there had been three or four cases reported daily, but since then there has hardly been a case in the city. The report from quarantine is equally encouraging. The cholera has continued to abate rapidly, and the health officers are confident that it will very soon disappear.

SEC. 2, Provides that the tenth section of the act entitled "An act to establish salaries for postmasters, and for other purposes," approved July 1st, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and as much of the twenty-eighth section of the act entitled "An act to amend the laws relating to the Post Office Department," approved March 3d, eighteen hundred and sixty-three, as requires postage to be charged at the prepaid rate, to be collected on the return delivery of letters, increased with a request for their return to the writers, be, and the same are hereby repealed; and all letters bearing such indorsement shall hereafter be returned to the writers thereof without additional postal charge.

SEC. 3, Provides that the third section of the act entitled "An act to establish a postal money-order system," approved May 17th, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, be, and the same is hereby amended so as to authorize the issuing of a money order for any sum not to exceed fifty dollars, and that the charge or fee for an order for a sum not exceeding twenty dollars shall be ten cents; for an order exceeding twenty dollars shall be twenty five cents.

LAST Tuesday Gen. Casement laid 10,000 feet of track for the U. P. R. R., being only 450 feet short of two miles. We challenge the world to equal it. The U. P. R. R. is going slow—oh so slow. Somebody has got to stir up such slow coaches as Casement, Durand, Reed and Schneider.—Omaha Republican, 12th.

Capture of Matamoros.

We have, by the Boston steamer Manito and Foot, at Brasilia City, the not unexpected news of the surrender of the Heroic City of Matamoros. After the recent defeat and capture of 1500 of Gen. Mejia's best troops, and the faithlessness of the Coronel Gómez Battalion, we predicted that this would be a necessity. Matamoros is not a strongly fortified city, and has, the last two years, been held almost entirely by the skill and vigilance of Gen. Mejia commanding.

Matamoros is a city which has house room for some 25,000 people. During Confederate days, when trade was brisk, it probably had more. At present, perhaps 15,000 is the greatest number. They are for the most part Mexican birth, though the great business of the city is carried on by foreigners, principally Spaniards and Germans, of Imperial sympathy.

It is well that Gen. Mejia took care to get away before the surrender, for it is not believed his life would be safe in the hands of the opposing party. As for the merchants, they will doubtless have to submit to immense forced loans.

This is the severest blow the Government of Maximilian could possibly receive. The promised withdrawal of the French was but enough and had thrown the whole country into a state bordering on anarchy. The capture of Matamoros throws the whole of the Northern States of Mexico into the hands of the Liberals.

It is well that they may be able to record their votes upon its final passage.

Local and Miscellaneous.

TO ADVERTISERS.—The Advertiser is the pioneer daily newspaper of Utah. Its immense circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (to which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four central Territories.

ATTENTION is called to the new advertisement of the Nevada Restaurant, kept by our friend Ross, who possesses to an eminent degree the faculty of administering to the wants of the inner man.

This morning we present the advertisement of Messrs. H. H. Bancroft & Co., Booksellers, San Francisco, California, who have the Pacific agency of nearly all the standard works published, including the Mormon Prophet, by Mrs. C. V. Waite. Send for their large catalogue, which contains a full list of all works sold by them, with prices attached.

It is said that, at the Fenian war council at the New York headquarters, it was determined to inaugurate a new movement of great magnitude immediately, but members are sworn to the strictest secrecy, and the public must therefore await further developments.

A bill has been signed by the President which provides for the revision and consolidation of the statutes of the United States. Three commissioners are to be appointed, with the consent of the Senate, to perform the labor, at a salary of $4,000 per annum. Three years are allowed for the completion of the work

(For the VENETIAN.)

"People's Ticket."

"We, the people of England," proclaimed the three pompos tailors of yore, "And their 'brass' is now imitated. With more cool 'cheek' than before. The custom, among politicians, When a public position 's to fill, A convention of voters to call, And give heed to the popular will; But here—cool as ice in December—The ticket is all 'cut and dried,' And the people reminded by 'counsel' That the business is all done side."

It is believed that by the 10th of July the Great Eastern was in readiness to sail from Valentia, and once more attempt the laying of the Atlantic cable. There are 2,800 miles of new cable on board the Great Eastern, and the machinery, both for paying out and picking up, is said to be the product of the best skill that England could bring into requisition.

From the River.

The Nebraska Legislature adjourned on the 11th.... E. B. Taylor, who was President of the last Council at Fort Laramie, claims that a successful treaty was negotiated on that occasion. Mr. Taylor had sold out his interest in the Omaha Republics to St. A. D. Bancroft.... D. A. Mahoney, formerly of the Dubuque Herald, is about starting a paper in Saint Louis, to be called the Times.... The State Legislature of Nebraska elected General John M. Thayer, of Omaha, and I. W. Tipton, of Brownsville, U. S. Senators, by a vote of 29 to 21. They are both radical Republicans. J. Sterling Morton and A. J. Poppleton were the Democratic candidates.

ON THE WAR PATH.—We are informed by Major D. H. Wheeler, Indiana Agent at the Reserve, that the Pawnees, 2,700 strong, and nearly 1,000 of the Omahas, started on their annual summer hunt last Sunday morning, off for Solomon's Fork, on the Republican, after which, should they not find the hunting good there, they will cross over to the Arkansas, Buffalo, elk, deer and Sioux are to constitute the principal game.

Both tribes, being friendly, formed an alliance for mutual protection, as their deadly enemies intend attacking them.—The fighting bravoes of both bands number about 1,900. The chief of the Pawnees is Pete La Sharo (Man Chief) and the interpreter Baptiste Beshyille, a half-breed, who speaks French, English and several Indian tongues fluently.—The chief of the Omahas is Joseph La Yest, a sort of Napoleonic adventurer. He has not a single drop of the royal blood of the Omahas in his veins, being a French-Ponca half-breed, but by his sagacity and bravery has won the distinguished position he now so honorably occupies.—Columbus (Neb.) Age.

The editor of the Raleigh (N. C.) Advertiser says, on the authority of a letter from Gen. Lee to himself, that the General desires to write a history of the war, but has not thus far made satisfactory progress, because of the loss of his papers.

We learn that the Omaha Board of Trade had had under consideration the question of supplying the demand for mechanics in our city, which is now so pressing. The scarcity of artisans has forced wages up in some branches to exorbitant rates, and our people find themselves compelled to look around for a remedy. Brick layers are demanding and receiving $6 a day for their labor. Most other avocations bear nearly the same proportion as to wages, as far as we can learn.—Omaha Republican.

GEN. Grant had formal invitations to "celebrate" at 96 different places on the last Fourth.

Mr. Eli Walker, a gunsmith of Hartford, Conn., has just inherited an estate in England valued at thirty-five millions of dollars.

The husband never again complained.

INDIAN TROUBLES.—The Emmaville Union of the 14th says of the Indian troubles in the southeastern part of the State, near Silver Peak and Palmetto District, an account of which was published last week, that a general uprising of the savages is feared, in which case the sparse population of that whole section would be compelled to abandon their property to destruction and take refuge in the settlements, as they are entirely without adequate means of defense.
